

PHILOSOPHY

We at ELGHATIT LAW FIRM always bear in mind that each matter entrusted to us is of vital importance not only to the client but also to the Firm.

Our approach is based on teamwork. We aim to offer full availability and coverage based on in-depth knowledge of the individual characteristics and needs of each client, of their aims, and of the structure and nature of each matter.

An approach centered on preventive advice, tailored and adapted to the client's specific needs.

An approach based on comprehensive advice, which takes into account all areas of economic, business as well as legal specialties which could affect the outcome of a problem or a case.

Legal problems rarely come neatly packaged. Major transactions often call for advice in depth on many different areas of law. We structure teams of lawyers with different legal expertise to solve these problems. A lead partner manages and coordinates the team, remaining involved throughout.

Of course, not all assignments require team strategy. If a single lawyer is all that is required, that is all that is provided.

An approach in short, which allows the vital relationship of confidence and trust between client and lawyer to develop fully, with a view to achieving the desired objective.
